BASEBALL BRIEFS.

Hesine Wagner got his name into the box score for the first time in the American league Saturday by running for Jack Barry after Barry was temporarily put out of commission by a pitched ball. Del Gainor played a strong game at first for the Red Sox in Saturday's game. It is said that George Baumgardner of the Browns is one of the most eccentric pitchers in the game, prefering to work for the Browns for 875 a month rather than to play for Memphis for twice that. The Red Sox are climbing on their leaders every day.

Herzog played at third for the Cincinnati Reds in Saturday's game and Groh played at second. Buck expects to wear a Giant uniform this afternoon. It is thought by some that he is going to be used in a three-cornered deal, but Herzog says himself that he has a three-year contract with the Giants.

After Rabbitt Maranville had turned three or four grandstand plays into execution in Saturday's game, a fan in the 1 bleachers yelled, "Hey, Rabbitt, how would you like to play here?" This was
